Vector Security Named ‘Supplier of the Year’ by Staples

PITTSBURGH, September 23, 2014 – Vector Security, Inc., the provider of intelligent security solutions tailored to the needs of the customer, was named “Supplier of the Year” by office supply retailer Staples at the 2014 Staples Global Loss Prevention Conference in Mystic, CT earlier this month.

The award recognizes Vector Security for supporting Staples’ cost savings strategy. Using their trademark consultative approach, Vector Security experts listened to the customer’s needs, then crafted a security solution to meet the customer’s corporate objectives. This included creating an all-inclusive intrusion and fire system maintenance program as well as executing the conversion of more than 220 sites from standard alarm monitoring via phone lines to IP alarm monitoring.

“The highest honor we as a service provider can receive is recognition from our customer for delivering solutions and adding value to their organization,” said Michael T. Grady, Executive Vice President, Vector Security. “We are thankful for our partnership with Staples and proud to be selected as their 2014 Supplier of the Year.”

“We thank Staples for entrusting us with their loss prevention needs and for the opportunity to assist with their business goals and objectives,” said Vector Security National Account Manager Mark Townshend. “We look forward to a continued successful partnership with the Staples organization.”

Among the LP solutions Vector Security currently provides to Staples are intrusion and fire alarm monitoring, installation and service; video surveillance; and access control. Vector Security has worked with Staples for more than 12 years.
